In this activity you will practice basic web design principles. Review and read the following site:

<http://web-design.chiamo.org/> (<http://web-design.chiamo.org/>)

Design a single page of a website, using HTML and CSS, that follows all of the principles to the best of your ability, with the exception that responsive design is not needed. Your page can be either the front page of a website (e.g. a store showing a selection of items for sale) or a page of content from a website (e.g. a single product page for a store).

Submission

Turn in a screenshot of your web page.
